According to the Nov. 10 Evening News of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., a father was under investigation by police after War Memorial Hospital Reported an assault on the man's 11 year old son. Police said it appeared that the two were playing a video game, that the son had beaten his dad by using a secret upgrade that made his character more powerful, and that the dad, in anger, had spanked the kid, put soap in his mouth and slapped him several times in the head. (The father said only that he had punished the boy for lying.)

A 26 year old man stole a truck, which had been left with the engine running, from a shopping center in Vancouver, Washington. He mistook the tobacco spit cup sitting on the dash for a soft drink and took a big gulp. The thief started choking and had to stop and call 911 for medical help. Meanwhile, the absent owner of the truck had returned from washing his hands to see someone drive off in his truck. He notified the police who quickly caught up with the choking thief.
